INTRODUCTION

Let's be honest. No one likes getting older.

Things about your body change in ways you never expected.

Suddenly, your energy drops.

You lack motivation and your work is suffering.

You are no longer interested in sex.

Efforts at the gym aren't producing the expected results.

Irritability, depression or anxiety are affecting your family life.

And perhaps you are even starting to experience issues with sexual performance and erectile dysfunction.

This combination of symptoms can leave you feeling depressed and hopeless.

The likely culprit?

Testosterone deficiency.

It's an inevitable part of aging.

In fact, men can start experiencing deficient testosterone levels as early as 30 years old.

Men turn to all sorts of injections, pills, and creams, promising to relieve their symptoms, but nothing seems to make a real difference.

Here's the good news. Getting older doesn't have to mean not feeling like yourself. You can feel stronger, boost your energy, and revitalize your sex drive.

We want to let you in on the high performance secret that will do just that...

chapter two

HOW IT WORKS ---

We've covered the fact that Bio-Identical Testosterone Replacement Pellet Therapy has the ability to transform life as you now know it, but let's look at how.

Determining if Testosterone Pellet Therapy is Right For You

Let's imagine you are sick and tired of feeling sick and tired and you've come to our office for a free testosterone pellet therapy consultation to determine if pellet therapy treatment is right for you.

First, we'll discuss your symptoms. Whether you're suffering from low energy, weight gain, muscle loss, lack of interest in sex, erectile dysfunction, irritability, or depression and anxiety, we'll listen and take notes. Often, men find they feel hopeless to relieve their symptoms and are skeptical of treatment benefits. We understand because we have been there, too. You are encouraged to ask us all of your questions and talk about any of your concerns. That's what we are here for, to listen to you and determine if we can help you feel better!

Next, we'll collect a small blood sample and send it to the lab for analysis. This will allow us to establish your detailed baseline testosterone levels. If you are deficient, these results are later used to determine the optimal testosterone dose for you and your individual symptoms.

If testosterone pellet therapy looks like a good fit based on your symptoms and lab results, you decide whether you want to have the treatment or not - no pressure. We can provide your first treatment right then and there, or you can schedule an appointment that is convenient for you.

The Procedure

In the comfort of our men's medical office, you'll receive local anesthetic injection at the insertion site to ensure your complete comfort - you won't feel any pain.

In 10 minutes or so, after the area is fully numbed, a tiny incision is made. Next, the tiny testosterone pellets are inserted under the skin. The most common area of insertion is the upper hip.

The insertion only takes about 5 minutes. Afterwards, we'll put a small bandage on your incision and send you on your way. You'll resume normal activities immediately, only avoiding strenuous exercise for a few days.

The best part is that you can expect to start feeling relief in a matter of days.

How the Pellets Work

Testosterone replacement pellets are made of testosterone. Naturally derived from plants, this testosterone is identical to the testosterone produced by your own body.

Testosterone is pressed into small, solid pellets about the size of a grain of rice, smaller than a Tic-Tac. These pellets are made by the top national compounding pharmacies and are delivered to our office in sterile glass vials. Being made of natural materials, pellets are completely absorbed by the body.

As your body absorbs the testosterone from the pellets over the next 5 to 6 months, it provides for consistent, optimal, and healthy testosterone levels. One month after the procedure, we'll check your lab work again to ensure that you have optimal levels and make adjustments as needed.

chapter three

WHY HORMONE PELLET THERAPY

Let's take a look at what makes Bio-Identical Testosterone Pellet Replacement Therapy superior to other methods of testosterone replacement.

It works.

The number one reason testosterone pellet therapy is the best solution for testosterone deficiency is that it works... and fast. You don't have to waste time and money trying gimmick pills, getting frequent injections, or applying ineffective creams that will simply leave you feeling just as bad, if not worse. Testosterone pellet therapy gives you real, long-lasting relief in a matter of days that lasts for 5-6 months.

It's all natural.

Part of what makes testosterone pellet therapy so effective is how natural it is. Because the testosterone is identical to the testosterone produced by our bodies, our bodies respond wonderfully well to it. Most men don't experience any side effects. Even the possible side effects are extremely mild and are easily treatable.

No extreme fluctuations.

The pellets allow for a steady release of testosterone over time, resulting in healthy testosterone levels. Other methods of testosterone delivery often result in significant, unhealthy testosterone fluctuations, which can leave you feeling awful. There's no need to put yourself through that when there is a solution that offers consistent, effective and healthy levels.

It's easy to maintain.

You'll love the freedom of not having to take time out of your busy schedule to get shots every week. Instead, after your testosterone pellet therapy session, you won't need to come back for five to six months. This easy maintenance routine allows you to feel better while still enjoying your busy lifestyle.

You don't have to do it alone.

Perhaps the best part about testosterone pellet therapy is having our skilled medical professionals available to walk you through each step and customize the treatment for your unique needs. After all, there's nothing worse than feeling like you need help and being unable to find an ethical, attentive, caring and knowledgeable provider. Not to mention, you'll have the peace of mind of knowing your testosterone levels are regularly monitored, are safe, and are optimized leaving your feeling like your best self again!

COMMONLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why Are Pellets the Best Choice for Testosterone Therapy?

Unlike creams, pills, and injections, pellets deliver more consistent and healthy levels of testosterone into the body. Pellets are absorbed over the course of 5 - 6 months, avoiding the extreme fluctuations experienced with other testosterone delivery methods. Additionally, these natural testosterone doesn't increase the risk of health issues and cancers in the way synthetic hormones do. Pellet therapy maintains an extremely high success rate, even for patients who have wasted excessive amounts of money trying other methods of testosterone replacement therapy that produced awful side effects, or little or no results.

What Are the Effects of Pellet Therapy?

Testosterone pellets increase your lean body mass (strengthening muscles and bone density) and decrease your fat mass.

The most common response from our patients about pellet therapy is that it has restored their quality of life. With Bioidentical Testosterone Replacement Therapy, you may experience the following benefits:

- Decreased Body Fat
- Increased Muscle Strength and Endurance
- Restored or Increased Sex Drive
- Relief from Depression and Anxiety
- Increased Energy Levels
- Greater Focus and Mental Clarity

Can Testosterone Therapy Help Restore My Libido?

If you're experiencing low libido, sexual dysfunction, or lack of sexual desire, these could all be signs of testosterone deficiency. Achieving optimal testosterone balance can restore your quality of life by greatly improving sexual function, interest, and enjoyment.

How Do Testosterone Levels Affect Hair Loss?

A common cause of hair loss is suboptimal testosterone levels. Pellet therapy can help to reduce risk of hair loss. Additionally, if you have high levels of DHT, we can prescribe medications to prevent further loss and allow your hair to grow normally.

COMMONLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Is Pellet Therapy Covered by Insurance?

Usually, pellet therapy is not covered by health insurance. While other forms of testosterone therapy are covered by some insurance companies, pellets are not yet included. This is often the case with the newest medical advancements and best medications. Also, because testosterone pellets aren't produced by large, conglomerate pharmaceutical corporations, there isn't any pressure being put on insurance companies to cover pellet therapy. When copays and deductibles are factored in, most of our patients find pellet therapy to be just as affordable despite the fact it isn't covered by insurance. Ultimately, we know that throwing money away on copays and deductibles for ineffective or unsafe treatments is discouraging and leaves you suffering. Superior testosterone treatment is worth the investment. You only get one life and we want your quality of life to be optimal.

Are There Any Adverse Side Effects from Pellet Therapy?

Unlike other less-effective forms of testosterone therapy, there are very few side effects to pellet therapy. Even still, those side effects are transient and totally treatable. Very rarely, a pellet insertion site could become inflamed or pellets could come out. Most patients, however, only experience minor bruising at the insertion site.

Can I discuss my personal symptoms and issues with a male provider?

Absolutely, at our exclusively male Men's Contemporary Health Center, you can always privately address even your most intimate issues with a skilled and knowledgeable male provider. We understand the delicate and private issues surrounding low testosterone and erectile dysfunction. Dr. Bloy and his team of providers are patients themselves that used to suffer many of these same conditions.
